A Little About Flood Safety Awareness in Montana

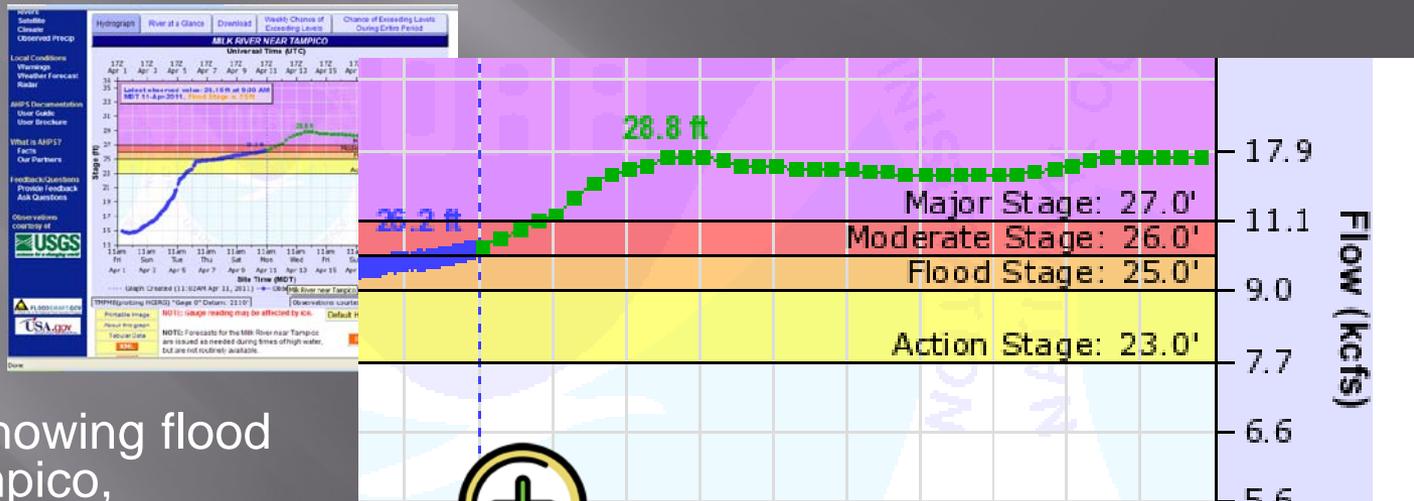

Local communities host Flood Awareness Days

...at the time of year that works for the community and usually involves hand-on activities for youth!

A Little About Flood Safety Awareness in Montana

During FEMA/National Weather Service's, Flood Safety Awareness Week in March, flood safety email messages are sent to hundreds of interested parties.

Electronic graph showing flood predictions for Tampico, Montana. Links to such graphs were sent during Flood Safety Awareness Week, March 14-18, 2011.

Portion of graph enlarged.

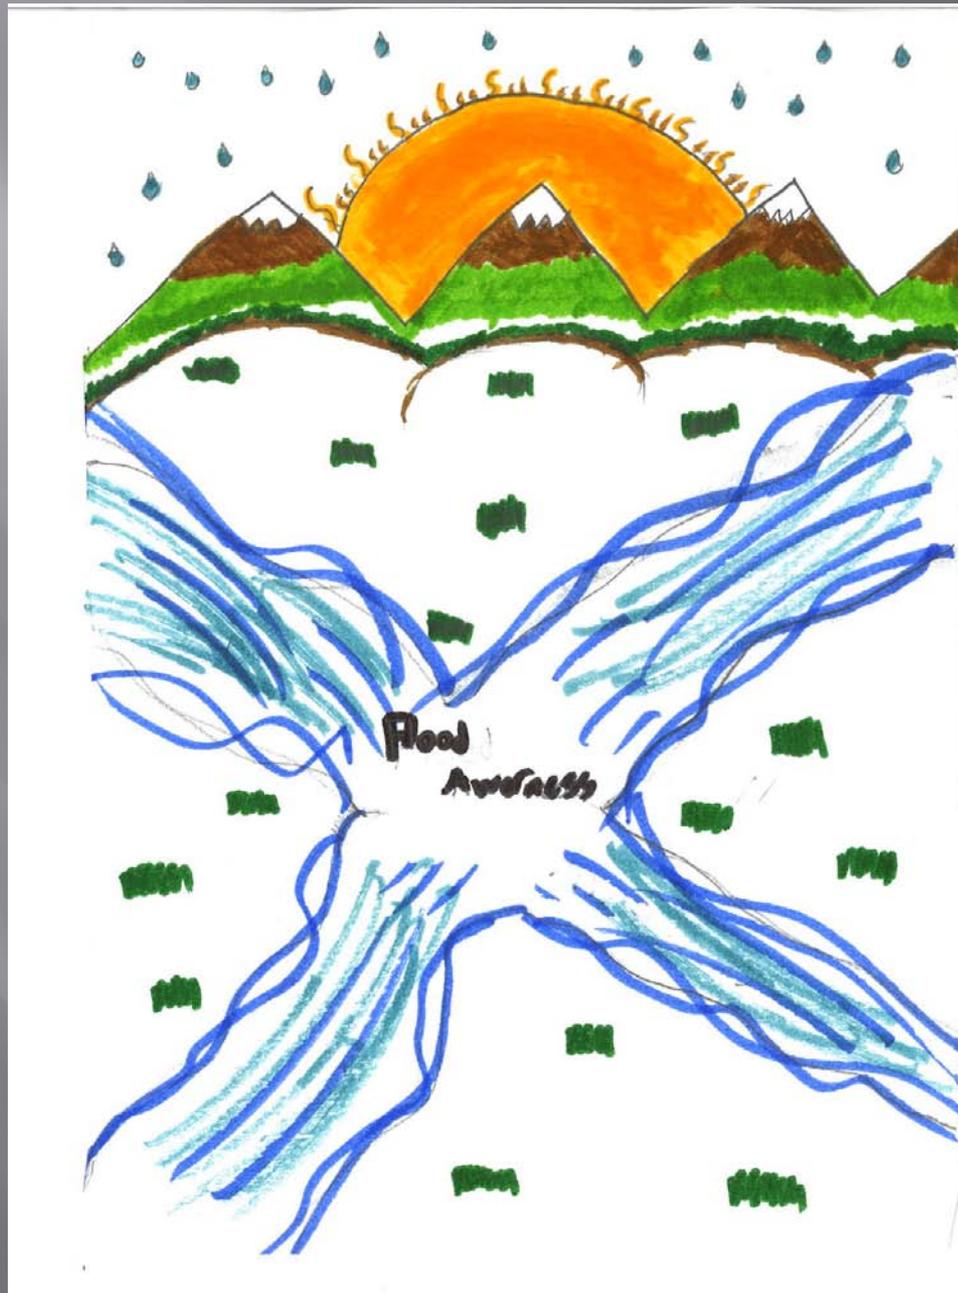

Back to the art contest.

The 2011 entries look great.
It will be tough for the judges to pick only one.

Winning design will appear on Flood Awareness Day T-Shirts .

Who wants to remind you that...

Floods Happen in Montana!

Consider building outside of flood prone areas.

Contact your local Floodplain Administrator, before building, for information about floodplain permits and possible maps of flood prone areas. Find list of local floodplain administrators at:
